

Skincare from
NEW ZEALAND

Our Products...

Experience the wonderful natural healing properties of New Zealand's UMF® Manuka Honey and Anti-oxidant rich Kiwifruit, through our ranges of rejuvenating skincare products. We have spent months on research and development to create one of New Zealand's most revitalising ranges of skincare.

From the glossy up-market packaging with the glorious photographs, the lightly scented delicate fragrances developed in France from real New Zealand Manuka nectar and New Zealand Kiwifruit, through to the richly textured, deeply hydrating and soothing cream's available in this range, I am sure you will agree that these products truly reflect the true beauty that is New Zealand.

Packaging Specifics...

We have gone to great lengths to design fantastic products and to compliment it we have gone that extra mile with packaging, to bring you truly special product ranges.

Each item in these ranges comes beautifully presented in its own uniquely tinted pot/bottle or tube.

As well as added protection during transportation these gift boxes will present themselves beautifully at store level, with such eye catching visuals and stunning colours.

We have also treated each box to a high gloss laminate, resonant with the upmarket and well known top quality brands available in the world.

Are These Products New Zealand Made?

Yes! 99% of these products are made in New Zealand.

We have researched, developed and made this product in New Zealand using the highest quality of ingredients available and supporting local industries.

The only portions not made in New Zealand were developing the lightly scented fragrances in one of the top perfumeries in France. We also had to import a small % of our own exclusively designed cosmetic pots.
